Christina Eleopoulos is a Senior Associate Attorney in the Orange County office. She strongly believes in the importance of prompt client communication and focuses on trying to reach a favorable resolution for her clients in the most efficient and expeditious manner.

Throughout Christina's career, she has reached countless early settlements and reverted many medical opinions from doctors. She recently received a "Take Nothing" finding at Trial even though the doctor had found industrial injury. Prior to joining Albert and Mackenzie, Christina worked as a workers' compensation defense Attorney for other defense firms and has made appearances all throughout the state.

Christina grew up in southern California. Christina's ambition and resilience led her to discover early on that she wanted to pursue a career in law. Negotiating settlements with the opposing counsel is one of her favorite aspects of being an attorney.

Christina's free time is spent with her family and friends – from going to the movie theatres and watching live sports to trying out new restaurants and shopping. Her interests also include traveling and reading. She has several favorite authors, including John Grisham, Stephen King, Danielle Steel, and Dean Koontz.

As a big fan of sports, Christina's favorite teams are the Dallas Mavericks and Dallas Cowboys. Fun fact: Christina once met Dirk Nowitzki in person at a Mavericks home game.
