Drew Goorabian is a Managing Attorney in our Orange County office. His focus is on the defense of workers' compensation claims on behalf of employers, insurance carriers, and third-party administrators. Drew emphasizes excellent client communication, extensive case preparation, and swift resolution of claims in the most cost-effective method possible.

He was admitted to the State Bar of California and the U.S. District Court, Southern District of California in 2016. Prior to joining Albert and Mackenzie, he worked at a prominent workers' compensation defense firm in Northern California.

Drew graduated from the University of Louisville, where he majored in Finance magna cum laude in 2013. He then obtained his Juris Doctor from University of San Diego School of Law in 2016. During his time at USD Law, he participated in Moot Court and was the managing editor of the San Diego International Law Journal. His article, "Baseball's Cuban Missile Crisis: Why the United States and Major League Baseball Must End Cuban Ballplayer Trafficking", was published by the UCLA Journal of International Law and Foreign Affairs in 2016.
